Between the Cascade and Siskiyou Mountains, lies one of Oregon's best kept secrets, a unique wine region surrounded by several pristine wilderness areas. Situated in Southern Oregon, visitors to Oregon's wine country "fly over" our vineyards on their way north from California, missing the state's most diverse grape growing region - the Rogue Valley. This doesn't deter our dedication to handcraft crisp and dry white blends from the cooler, western reaches of the Rogue. Controlled vine yield and traditional winemaking techniques allow us to consistently produce complex wines with ripe fruit concentration and rich texture.
