2016 Merlot, Rogue Valley, Oregon

Established in 1976, the Gerber family has been farming grapes for over forty years, specializing in Alsace white varieties and Pinot Noir, which are especially well suited to our microclimate. Foris wines are defined by the unique alpine location of our estate vineyards at 1500 feet elevation. Located in the southwestern region of the Rogue Valley AVA, our wines are a true expression of the unique soils and alpine climate of the Illinois Valley in Rogue Valley, Oregon.

Harvest completed early in the Rogue Valley with Bordeaux varieties ripening quickly and being harvested in early October. Warm summer conditions resulted in another early and compact harvest in 2016. The wines produced in 2016 will be similar to those produced in the vintages of 2014 and 2015 in flavor and fruit characteristics.

Our 2016 Merlot is composed of two lots harvested in early October from Evans Creek Vineyard in Rogue Valley, on a steep, terraced hillside from fruit that is consistently intense and flavorful. The fruit was hand-harvested, de-stemmed, and fermented whole berry in small open-top fermentation bins. The three-quarter ton bins are gently punched down for the duration of the 10 to 14 day fermentation. Once primary fermentation is complete, the wine is racked to French oak barrels (16% once filled) for 10 months of barrel aging. The blend includes 16% Cabernet Franc.

Our 2016 Merlot is a full-bodied aromatic wine with black cherry and plum. It is full bodied with red and black fruit and savory accents of forest floor, cedar, pencil, and leather, wrapped in balanced tannin. It is an elegant interpretation of the type of Bordeaux wines the Rogue Valley can deliver in great warm vintages.
